A CORRECTION

Our newly appointed Chairman of the Membership Committee, Bro. Peter I. Lee, writes as follows:

“In reading the February Masonic Philatelist, I note an error in the article about our January meeting. It states that Bro. Peter Lee showed Christmas stamps of Norway. Actual, these stamps were Official Stamps.

I can readily understand how they were considered to be Christmas stamps because of their brilliant color and design, but I respectfully request that if at all possible a correction be made in a subsequent issue.

I also feel that I, myself, am largely to blame, inasmuch as I did not make any comment about the stamps as I should have, the main reason being that after having witnessed and heard the comments on all that wonderful stuff shown by the other Brothers, I got the feeling that the less said the better.”

OUR FEBRUARY MEETING

Bro. Reggel, on behalf of one of our members who was present but who preferred to remain anonymous as to the source, presented to each member a first-day cover of the intentionally issued Dag Hammarskjold Invert error.

We were very happy to see Richard Bruder in attendance after a long absence because of his business having transferred him out-of-town. Also welcomed by our President were two new members, Bros. Wittach and Walton.

After a very short business meeting, Bro. Schelmeyer introduced our guest of the evening, Professor John Myer.
Masonry and Polar Expeditions, Part II

By Dr. Irwin M. Yarry

The next great event of Admiral Byrd's Antarctic explorations brings us to the expedition under the complete auspices of the Federal Government, and known as the U.S. Antarctica Service Expedition with Admiral Byrd in command. This was the second exploratory expedition (Wilkes' Expedition of 1839 was the first), and left Boston in November 1939 with the "North Star" and the "Bear." President Franklin D. Roosevelt, an old friend of Admiral Byrd, gave him all the assistance and encouragement which one brother of the Craft might be expected to give to another under such circumstances. An indication of the friendship and cooperation which existed between these two distinguished members of the Fraternity, may be discerned from the few words written in the most personal and informal manner in the letter as illustrated, with reads:

"My dear Franklin, Greetings from the South Seas! I want to tell you what a very tremendous lot your messages have meant to all of us. We will certainly try to do a good job for you. The next you hear from us we will be trying to do our stuff. With affectionate regards, Dick Byrd."

This letter, in Admiral Byrd's handwriting, was written at Dunedin, New Zealand. The envelope, which is illustrated on our Cover Page, bore a cachet for Pitcairn Island, and was franked with a New Zealand 2½ pence stamp cancelled Pitcairn Island 14 Dec. 39 and French Oceania 15 and 50 centimes stamps cancelled Ahurel, Ile Rapa 17-12-39. The reverse side bears the signature of R. E. Byrd, 9 Brimmer St., Boston, Mass. Note that the cover is addressed to Hon. Franklin D. Roosevelt, White House, Washington, D.C. Important—Attention Miss Margaret Le Hand.

The result of this third trip to the South Pole brought many new discoveries and mappings of the coastline. Admiral Byrd next was placed in charge of the Navy's Antarctic Development Program with the most ambitious polar expedition of 13 vessels, planes and 4,000 men and officers on Operation High Jump in 1947.

The climax of recognition came to Admiral Richard Evelyn Byrd, now in his 60's, when Operation Deep Freeze was sponsored by the Federal Government to take place between 1955-58, to explore the Antarctic Continent and to participate in the proposed International Geophysical Year of 1957-58 or the I. G. Y. as it is now known. Many nations participated in the I. G. Y. and issued stamps to commemorate it. The United States issued a special stamp (Scott No. 1107) which is illustrated herewith.

This expedition was set up by the Navy in several phases. The 1955 phase was to involve 7 ships, 14 aircraft and 1800 men, for the building of two large year-around bases in Antarctica at Kainan Bay, Little America, and the other on Ross Island in Mc Murdo Sound. Further projects included a station at Marie Byrd Land, 500 miles away. For 1957 an additional 12 ships, 38 aircraft and 3525 men were detailed with further bases at the South Pole and to supply all these with added bases at Knox Coast and Weddell Sea. The third phase in 1958—to resupply all stations. The fourth phase—the participation in the I. G. Y. Scientific Program in 1958-59.

The realization of this vast project is now history, but Admiral Richard E. Byrd did not survive to witness it all. He died in his sleep at his home on Brimmer Street in Boston on March 11, 1957,—death being attributed to a heart ailment brought on by overwork in connection with his many activities with Operation Deep Freeze. Shortly before his death, he had been decorated with the Defense Department Medal of Freedom, climaxing many honors and decorations bestowed upon this great American man of peace, Mason and worker for the betterment of mankind.

Brother Richard Evelyn Byrd.

Born: October 25, 1888—Winchester, Virginia.

MUSINGS OF AN "OLD HAS BEEN"

Article No. 5

Well do I remember my first auction! It was soon after my interest started to revive in stamps—-I had decide to buy some Spanish stamps which I had seen (yes, Goya nudies), and went to the office where I had seen them. I arrived to find the place all rearranged—about 20 people were seated and one man was on a platform. Some one thrust a leaflet into my hand and pointed to a number. I sat down too, and started listening and watching.

Numbers were called by the platform man and values and bids made. I couldn't understand how he got his figures on bids,—no one seemed to say anything, but he sold the lots just the same, and every once in a while there seemed to be spirited bidding. Finally it dawned on me to watch two men up near the front and I learned a new use for a pencil.

One of the peculiar features of that auction to me was that there was no evidence of display of the wares being sold, as is the usual custom at other auctions. Later I found that they were on display at a front table where three men were seated, but that most of the bidders had viewed them in advance and made an evaluation for their prospective bidding.

Needless to say, I did not get my Goyas, nor did I buy anything at that auction. Later, I inquired about method of payment and delivery, which of course are slightly different from the general auctions which I had seen before this. It is interesting to recall that auction was run by a man who is presently a member of our Club, and on this occasion was called by a member of our Fraternity. That was many years and auctions ago, but I still find that there is something exciting about attending a stamp auction of the better variety.

Lake Erie Chapter

The regular third Wednesday of the Month meeting of the Lake Erie Chapter #2 of the Masonic Stamp Club of New York was held at 8:00 P.M. on March 20th with 17 members present. Of this group 10 joined in the Dutch Treat Dinner preceding the meeting.

The Philatelic Activities Committee reported that 50 display frames were in the process of manufacture. These frames will be used for our future exhibits and for displays in other shows.

The committee also reported that they were busy assembling a display to enter in the Garfield Perry Clubs inter Club show.

About 8 lbs. of stamps, several albums and catalogs were turned in for the Crippled Children's Hospitals.

A 5 minute talk was given by Bro. James Lamberts on the life and history of Albert Pike.

Many good items were entered in the regular auction. Due to the quality of the merchandise the bidding was very spirited and well handled by Bro. James Lambert.

The main speaker for the evening was Bro. L. W. Christenson whose topic was "The First Issues of Stamps of Japan." Bro. Christenson has one of the world's best and complete collections of Japanese Stamps.

—Corresponding Secy. Harry A. Pahl

OUR FEBRUARY MEETING.

Our speaker gave a most interesting and scholarly presentation of the stamps of Columbia. He had a very detailed tape recording, which he had made himself, on the background and postal history of Colombia, which served as a constructive introduction for his main talk which was amply illustrated with color slides of many of his prized stamps and covers of that country. His talk was most comprehensive and was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. The turnout for Prof. Myer was indeed gratifying, as the room was almost filled by our members.

—Stanley A. Salomon
my dear Franklin,

Greetings from the South Pole.

I want to tell you about a very tremendous lot of messages have been sent to all of us. We will certainly try to do a good job for you.

The next year, I hear of us, we will be trying to do some stuff.

With affectionate regards,

Dick Byrd
FROM BRO. WALTER R. HARBESON

"I am enclosing an article on a subject that has not been mentioned regarding Masonry on Stamps, so far as I know. This information is from an article by Fred Kleinknecht, Jr. 33°, which appeared in the Mansfield, Ohio, Mason. I trust it will be of enough interest to be used.

I am getting along fine. I have been to a meeting of my home lodge, to my K. T. Inspection, Eastern Star and the Stamp Club, so I am getting around a bit. I am still at the hotel, using a cane all the time now; in fact, sent my walker back to the Temple yesterday. Managed to walk over to the Temple one day for lunch; when the weather improves, hope to do so often.

Remember me to the boys at the Club. I do hope that Uncle Jake is getting along O. K. He evidently did not get to Florida this winter. I hear from Bros. Loke, Dailey and Carr regularly and enjoy getting mail."

3 5 7 9

Three-five-seven-nine are known as the Mystic Numbers. The only set of number stamps that show all four numbers is the U.S. Postal Note issue and can well be included in a Masonic collection.

In Freemasonry the number three is the most sacred. There are three symbolic degrees; three principal officers; three greater and three lesser lights; three original Grand Masters; three rays; three steps; three circuits of the lodge; three pillars of wisdom, strength and beauty and three movable and immovable jewels. No symbol is more important than the equilateral triangle used in the design of Deity.

Five is a sacred number inferior only to three and seven. There are five points of fellowship; five senses; five orders of architecture; five pointed star. The last one is not found among the old symbols and is of recent origin.

Seven is called the perfect number, being made up of three and four, the triangle and the square. Solomon was seven years building the Temple. It was dedicated in the seventh month and the festival lasted seven days. There are seven arts and sciences, seven winding stairs, and seven are required to make a perfect lodge.

Nine—since three was deemed the most sacred of numbers, three times three was ranked highest in holiness. Nine was regarded with a degree of tenor, and to the ancients, a symbol of change and an emblem of faculty of man and his affairs. According to the Kabbalists, the cypher nine symbolized the generative egg or the image of a little globular being.

The arithmetical progression should be noted

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10
09 18 27 36 45 54 63 72 81 90

The regular series is the first line. The second line reproduces it with two digits in each number, the first digit in each ascending from 0 to 9, the second digit reverses from 9 to 0. The sum of the two digits in each number on the second line is 9.

In Masonic language, nine is derived from three times three and is used most often in that way. Twenty-seven, or three times nine, and eighty-one, or nine times nine, are used as sacred numbers in the higher degrees.

VACATION REMINISCENCE

During our last vacation, I drove my family through a small, sleepy Texas town, named Chappell Hill. It is a quiet little town, inhabited mostly by cotton farmers, and is rich in history and folklore.

We stopped and talked with the local banker and his wife, Mr. & Mrs. H. I. Winfield. It just so happened that the Masonic Lodge was across the street from the bank, on the second floor, and that Bro. Winfield is the W. M. of Hubert Lodge #87 at Chappell Hill, whose charter dates back to January 24, 1851. The Lodge currently has 26 members. Brother Winfield has the original charter and the original gavel with which the Lodge was first opened safely stored in the vault of his bank. He is also able to tell you where the Lodge procured the bell, used to toll "low twelve," and which now hangs on the landing of a set of stairs leading up to the second story, where the communications are held. He can also relate many, many fascinating tales of the charter members and some of the early brethren. Some of them were fine people, and some, like young Longly, wound up as an outlaw, hanging from a tree. Besides the stories he likes to tell, Bro. Winfield has a fine collection of guns, rifles and marrows which one could spend hours examining.

The most unusual part of this story is that among the multitude of treasures Bro. Winfield has, is one that he gave me when I told him of my interest in Masonic Philately. It is a manila envelope, 9 1/2" x 4 7/4", with the return address of the Farmers State Bank in the upper left hand corner. UNIQUE LODGE MEETING OF MANY NATIONS

ELECTIONS

A YEAR AGO we heard in a certain lodge here: “Bible’s office should be desired vacant. He is finally going to serve as a presiding office. We have everyone leading.” But Bibles is going to continue in office without any understanding, or emphasis, while the other problems of his office must work to his better advantage. We have one man who did not believe in any office value.

November came and we heard as before. But this month we did not have any office. And so, for the last time, is a Master of our lodge. The lodge was closed in peace and harmony at 11 P.M. and at the request of the Master, showed once more to take place of some refreshments.

COUNCIL OF HONOR

The meeting closed with a vote of appreciation to the officers of the Council of Honor who provided the refreshments to be served at this South Pole meeting.
